Meet Land Trust Founder Melanie Zwick:

I came to the Fraser Valley in 1979 to ski for one winter before going to grad school. My plan was to be here for part of a year. After a ski bum job, I ended up having a nearly 30-year career as an agent with New York Life, which is not something I would have ever expected to find myself doing. During that time, I was also a volunteer ski instructor for NSCD. Getting the land trust going was a great collaborative effort. I wish we knew then what we know now! You can tell what a special place Grand County has been by the way it has drawn people back to it.
